Upscale Market Opening In Historic Clemons Building

To Feature Deli Selection, Craft Beers, Local Coffee And More

Monday, August 22, 2016

Street Corner Market at the Clemons

A new multi-purpose market will open this week on the ground floor at the historic Clemons Building. "Street Corner Market at the Clemons" will be available for residents and nonresidents to enjoy a variety of services and products.

Owners of the market noted their vision of providing a true Chattanooga experience to their customers. "There are so many great Chattanooga products," said Operating Manager Elia Gouvista. "Our customers will be able to select pastries, chocolate and breads from the Bluff View Arts District; Fleetwood and Mayfly Coffees; unique jewelry from Elea Blake; unusual florals from Grafe Floral Studio, and a curated collection of craft beers. The market has secured some exclusive deals such as offering famous Bluff View pretzels all week long and serving Mayfly's cold pressed coffee on nitro.

In addition, the deli will offer Boar's Head gourmet sandwiches for lunch, meats and cheeses to take home after work, and, for the health conscious, the market will feature the only self-service salad bar in the center of the city. The idea is to provide a true Chattanooga experience that reflects our community's expertise in all we do, especially healthy living," said officials.

With an eye toward customer service, the market will provide the opportunity for customers to 'build a basket' of items they want to pick up on the way home through an online portal (which will be available within the next two months). In addition, the owners of the market note that they will begin delivery in the fall to area businesses and residents.
